New York Stock Market

New York, March 1.—Favorable inferences might be drawn from the confidence felt by holders of stocks from the scanty offerings to sell in the market to-day. It was this lightness of the supply which made it easy for the professional traders to bid up prices without being obliged to accept any great amount of stock. The actual demand was small, and was confined almost wholly to this professional trading element. The news bearing on security values did not seem to be considered of sufficient importance to prompt any large shifting of position in the market on the more substantial inside interest. The attitude of waiting was maintained on their part. The prevailing opinion was in favor of a coming period of duliness and a narrow drift of prices not long maintained in either direction.

The annual report of the Pennsylvania had an important influence in sustaining confidence, and the firm undertone of the day's market. Not only past results recorded, but the plans outlined for prodigious further outlays for additions and improvement contributed to this effect. The increasing number of bond issues sold to bankers is further testimony to the unimpaired determination of the great railread corporations to proceed with the work of building up their systems.

New York, March 1.—Money on eall easy, 203 per cent; ruling rate, 23-4 per cent; closing bid and offered at 2 per cent. Time loans soft and fairly active; sixty days and ninety days, 31-2 per cent; six months, 3-2-4. Close: Prime mercantile paper, 41-20 5 per cent. Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.84950 $4.85 for sixty-day bills, and at $4.8715 for demand. Commercial bills, $4.84 1-40 $4.845.4 Bar silver, 501-4. Mexican dollars, 44. ver, 501-4. Mexican dollars, 44.

"A Matinec Idol" Makes a Hit.

De Wolf Hopper, without a comedy wig, without turned up toes to his shoes, but dressed in ordinary everyday clothes; not living in the land of "Wans," but in France of to-day—but still the same De Wolf Hopper, absolutely alone in his class; a "sold out" house; a "warm" audience; a nice-looking chorus, with fresh, pretty clothes; a competent supporting company, and altogether a happy evening, without a single, serious thought to spoil its sheer foolishness.

The story is frothy enough, and so its the music—they were both meant to be; but the story works up to a farce which contains a number of amusing situations, and the music is of the catchy variety—if the gallery had been given half a show last night there would have been a big whistling chorus to several of the songs. Of the fitteen musical numbers, "Little Lady in the Moon" was probably the pretitest, while "The Dancing Banshee," with a certain weird accompaniment, was the most interesting, and the trio, "Nonsense," was the most amusing.

Everybody knows Hopper, with his great big body and great long legs, his own peculiar style of comedy, which always amuses, and his great big voice, running down into the depths of basso. Unfortunately, last night, his bronchial tubes were out of order and the big voice was missing, but he was just as funny as ever. Next to him, came George Mack, a mite of a man, who played Jimmie Grant, an ex-lockey, with a sure and certain sense of comedy—when he spoke or sang, they laughed, and few lines, but showed the best of the voices; Harriet Burt, as Mrs Burton, was very attractive and danced beautifully—her "I'm looking for a husband," with six chorus girls to help her, was one of the best of the numbers, and her gomes caused a buzz—one in particular. Joseph and they langhed in the redwind will have a sure and certain sense of comedy—when he spoke or sang, they laughed, and wen he thought, they laughed, and they danced beautifully and as if they enjoyed it

"The Bells" Te-Night.

Thomas E. Shea, who is appearing at the Bijou this week, presented "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" to a thoroughly appreciative audience last night. As a character actor, he easily leads all who have been seen lately at this playhouse. His work was convincing, and his support was excellent.

To-night the attraction will be "The Bells." By giving three different plays in one week the company has set a new standard at the Bijou, and one which proves irresistible to those who are regular patrons.
